What A Great Year!

1999

LOOK back in the year
McKinley
Sixth Grade Choir
An Extreme Close Up look at the year! Astronauts were out of this world, baseballs soared out of the park, and music, movies and TV were out of sight.

1998-1999
Hundreds of meteors blazed through the sky in late 1998, burning up in the earth's atmosphere.

In 1962, John Glenn was the first American to orbit the earth. This year, the country celebrated when this 77-year-old Ohio senator got a second chance in space on the Shuttle Discovery.

U.S. Space Shuttle Endeavor astronauts began the assembly of the International Space Station to be completed by 2004.

"Zero G and I feel fine"

In 1962, John Glenn flew alone. Thirty-six years later, Glenn joined six multi-national astronauts to make up the crew for the Space Shuttle Discovery.

John Hume and David Trimble shared the 1998 Nobel Peace Prize for their work in forging the "Good Friday" agreement, aimed at ending violence in Northern Ireland.

Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat, the late King Hussein of Jordan, President Clinton, and Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu agreed to pursue peace in the Middle East.

Ground was broken for a memorial to the 168 victims of the 1995 bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City.
Storm clouds gathered over the White House and much of the western hemisphere this year, but it was clear skies for Astronaut/Senator John Glenn and NASA.

Evil Eye

Hurricanes Mitch and Georges brought over 100 mph winds, torrents of rain, and mud-slides to the Caribbean and Central America in 1998.

A hot, dry summer sparked out-of-control fires in Florida that burned more than 320,000 acres. Four-thousand firefighters from 41 states fought the blazes.

For only the second time in history, a president was impeached by the United States House of Representatives. Like Andrew Johnson in 1868, President William Jefferson Clinton was impeached by the House on charges of perjury and obstruction of justice.

Independent Prosecutor, Kenneth Starr, investigated the President and brought a referral against him to the House of Representatives' Judiciary Committee. Republican Congressman from Illinois, Henry Hyde presided over the Judiciary Committee that brought two articles of Impeachment against the 42nd President. The President was tried by the Senate, and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, William Rehnquist presided.

Simultaneous bombings occurred in the U.S. Embassies in Nairobi, Kenya, and Dar Es Salaam, Tanzania, killing 257 people and injuring more than 5,000.

The timber wolf, the bald eagle, the Canadian goose, and the brown pelican were removed from the endangered species list this year.

Ethnic Albanian residents returned to their homes in Kosovo, Serbia, with the protection of NATO soldiers.
On September 8, '98, Mark McGwire hit his 62nd home run of the season, breaking Roger Maris' 37-year-old record set in 1961. McGwire finished the season with a total of 70 homers, the last two sailed out of the park in the final game of the season.

Homerun Heroes

'Atta boy Dad! McGwire's son, Matt, was batter boy for dad's team, the St. Louis Cardinals.

Chicago Cubs' Sammy Sosa came a close second to McGwire, hitting 66 homers. He drove in 138 runs, scored 134 times, and batted .308.

Yankee slugger Roger Maris.

The "Wieningest!" Team Ever! The New York Yankees beat the San Diego Padres in four straight games to win the World Series. The Yankees have won 24 world championships, the most in any sport.

Quarterback John Elway led the Denver Broncos to their second straight title with a 34-19 victory over the Atlanta Falcons in Super Bowl XXXIII. The Detroit Red Wings swept the Washington Capitals to win their second Stanley Cup in a row.

Simply the Best! Led by striker, Zinedine Zidane, France beat Brazil 3-0 in the World Cup.
So Long Michael

Perhaps the best known and most loved sports player of all time retired this year. With six NBA Championships, six NBA Finals MVPs, five league MVPs, three All-Star MVPs, 10 scoring titles, 31.5 points per game (the best in history), and 13 seasons, Michael Jordan said, “This is the perfect time for me to walk away from the game.”

1960-1998

Known for her body suits, 6-inch nails, and unbeatable speed, Florence Griffith Joyner died in her sleep at 38, but her records, and her legacy, still stand.

Extremely Good!

Match Point! Lindsay Davenport beat Martina Hingis in the U.S. Open. This 6’2” Californian was the first American-born woman to win in 16 years.

No jumping for joy! Michael Jordan and all NBA players were “locked out” by team owners until February, 1999. Owners got the salary cap that players protested.

Beads and braids flying, these tennis playing Williams sisters, Venus (right) and Serena (left) were ranked 6th and 20th in the world. Venus is 6’2” and her serve has been clocked at 110 mph!

Twenty-seven-year-old NASCAR champion Jeff Gordon and his team the Rainbow Warriors have won 41 races in six years—the best all-time winning percentage!

Dave Mirra soars during a stunt street competition at the ’98 summer X-Games in San Diego.
Whether you like it or not, "That 70’s Show" on Fox aimed to do for the 70’s what Happy Days did for the 1950’s.

Sarah Michelle Gellar starred as a brave soul in the popular WB thriller "Buffy The Vampire Slayer."

The styles in WB’s top-rated "Dawson’s Creek" echo the 70’s look. Kerr Smith, Michelle Williams, James Van Der Beek, and Katie Holmes starred in one of prime time’s hottest teen TV shows.

With the hard drive and monitor all in one unit, Steve Jobs, CEO of Apple Computer, successfully launched the iMac.

Rags were small but big. The 1998 version of this classic has the engine in the front.

Also in the forefront was the coming millennium and the Year 2000 Bug, also Y2K. Power, communication and transportation systems might fail if we don’t swat this pesky bug.
Unsinkable. With stars Leonardo DiCaprio and Kate Winslet at the prow, "Titanic" was flooded with Academy Awards in ’98. Video sales soared this year.

Stephen Spielberg’s movie, “Saving Private Ryan,” starring two-time Oscar winner, Tom Hanks, along with Matt Damon, Edward Burns, and Tom Sizemore made history. The opening D-Day landing sequence was possibly the most realistic combat sequence ever filmed.

Godzilla stomped onto the scene this year. Some say that the 30-second Taco Bell tie-in featuring the Chihuahua was more fun than the movie itself.

Jennifer Love Hewitt was a new twenty dollar bill featured a larger portrait of Andrew Jackson, the words “USA Twenty,” and a thread that glows green in UV light. Can’t counterfeit that!

"Don’t Have A Cow Man!!” Is the most watched animated TV series, "The Simpsons," continued to grow in popularity, a variety of new animated shows hit the scene like "South Park" and "King of the Hill."
1. Formerly Ginger Spice, Geri Halliwell, left the Spice Girls to be a Goodwill Ambassador for the United Nations.

2. The most renowned musical voice of the 20th century, Frank Sinatra was born in 1915 in Hoboken, New Jersey and died May 14, 1998.

3. 17-year old Olympic Gold Medalist in gymnastics Dominique Moceanu gained independence from her parents claiming they squandered her earnings and forced her to compete.

4. The year after Princess Diana's death, her boys William and Harry have become teen stars.

5. Former pro wrestler Jesse "The Body" Ventura, won a three-way race for governor in Minnesota. He was the first Reform Party candidate to win a major election in the U.S.

6. South African President, Nelson Mandela and Bill Clinton announced a new economic partnership for African nations and America this year.

7. Talk show host Oprah Winfrey was not only a popular celebrity, she gave generously to many charitable causes.

8. Beatles Paul McCartney lost his wife Linda, of 29 years, to breast cancer.

9. Furby, the hit toy of 1998, was selling for $150 as the 1998 holidays approached. This talking furry toy spoke "Furbish" until its owner taught it English.

10. Extreme athletes, including skateboarders, stunt bikers, and in-line skaters, competed in the summer X-Games in San Diego, California.

11. Brian Setzer said, "Ya gotta, jump, jive, and then wail," when you play the new swing music.

12. Indonesian students in the capital Jakarta, marched to protest the rule of President Suharto. He resigned this year.

13. French students protested in Paris streets this summer, demanding more teachers and more books.

14. The wealthiest man on the planet, Microsoft Chairman Bill Gates, testified in the antitrust suit brought against his company by the U.S. Department of Justice.
